Research Experience

2017 – 2022 Graduate Student Researcher

University of California, Los Angeles

Advisor: Dr. Jeffrey Wood; Mentors: Dr. Connie Kasari and Dr. Catherine Lord

- Studied quantitative methodologies intensively, including multi-level modeling and latent class analysis (LCA)
- Developed an app (Shiny Mood App) using R Script, which aims to identify and predict mood state in people with rapid-cycling bipolar disorder using LCA and regression to trigonometric functions

2016 – 2017 Student Principal Investigator

Social Competence and Treatment Lab, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

Director: Dr. Matthew D. Lerner

- Designed and conducted an independent thesis study
- Gained familiarity working with the university's institutional review board process, as well as other practical matters in the development of independent research
- Produced a manuscript, which was then published in Autism

2015 – 2016 Undergraduate Research Assistant

Social Competence and Treatment Lab, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

Director: Dr. Matthew D. Lerner

- Adapted a version of the SELweb paradigm originally developed at Rush University for use with EEG, did extensive debugging of another student's work.

- Ran study visits with participants for a wide range of studies, and for a wide age range of participants (from young school-age children to adults).

Clinical Experience

2014 Volunteer Clinical Assistant

Department of Child Psychiatry, Stony Brook University Hospital, Stony Brook, NY

- Collaborated with supervisors to run therapeutic groups for children on the inpatient psychiatric ward; for example, a weekly goals group
- Supervised recreational and therapeutic activities of inpatient children, while acting as a positive role model and source of interaction
- Enacted behavioral interventions, which targeted problem behaviors, often by utilizing a token economy of points to be exchanged for privileges
- Gained clinical experience working with a diverse group of kids, including kids with autism spectrum disorders, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, oppositional defiant disorder, pediatric bipolar disorder, and anxiety disorders

Teaching Experience

2016 Undergraduate Teaching Assistant

Department of Psychology, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

PSY 334 Autism. Undergraduate lecture. Professor: Matthew Lerner.

2018 (Nov. 2) Invited Guest Lecture

Department of Psychology, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

PSY 334 Autism. Undergraduate lecture. Professor: Matthew Lerner.

2021 (Mar. 12) Invited Guest Lecture

Department of Psychology, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

PSY 334 Autism. Undergraduate lecture. Professor: Matthew Lerner.

2022 (Mar. 4) Invited Guest Lecture

Department of Psychology, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

PSY 334 Autism. Undergraduate lecture. Professor: Matthew Lerner.

Advocacy and Leadership Experience

2021-2022 LEND Medium-Term Trainee (MTT)

School of Medicine, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

The Stony Brook University LEND program (Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental Disabilities) is a graduate and post-graduate level interdisciplinary leadership and service training program. MTTs will participate in a 5-9 month program and complete 40-299 didactic and experiential contact hours.

- Attended weekly didactics on a variety of topics pertaining to neurodevelopmental disabilities, ranging from accessing services in school to issues pertaining to older adults and end-of-life care
- Completed an out-of-discipline rotation in adult psychiatry
- Talked with families, clinicians, and self-advocates
- Submitted an IACC public comment for the April 2022 meeting

Conference Organizing Experience

2018 (Oct. 13) Executive Committee of CEDAR Workshop

(Community Engagement in Deafness and Autism Research)

University of Connecticut, Groton, CT

Skills

- Experienced in “data wrangling” and organization of large datasets.
- Skilled with a variety of software for statistical computing including SPSS, R, MATLAB, and MPlus.
- Trained in advanced quantitative methods including hierarchical/multi-level regression, moderated and mediated regression, latent class analysis, hierarchical clustering, and exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis
- Programming experience in HTML/CSS, R, Presentation, Bash, and more. Ability to learn new programming languages quickly.
- Familiar with app development using R Shiny and deployment using Amazon Web Services (AWS).
- Trained to administer the KBIT-2 brief cognitive assessment and EVT expressive vocabulary test to children and adults.
- Operated an EEG system (32 active electrode Brain Products acti32CHamp EEG recording system with licensed BrainVision Recorder and BrainVision Analyzer

2 software) and experienced in training undergraduate research assistants in operation of this system.

- Strong and versatile writing and presentation skills, as evidenced by a track record in creative writing and literary publishing.

Current Projects

Active Research Studies

Autism Terminology and Symbolology Study. This study is awaiting IRB approval; we intend to find out what terms and symbols autistic people prefer, and to use hierarchical cluster analysis to find potential subgroups of respondents.

Sticky Thinking, Repetitive Behavior, and Mental Health Study. This study is currently recruiting participants; we aim to use autoregressive correlations to show the relationships between repetitive thinking, repetitive behavior, and a sampling of mental health outcomes including depression, anxiety, and OCD symptomatology.

Publications In Prep

Focusing on Gender in Autism Research. This paper, coauthored by Catherine Lord, explores asking about gender in research settings in a way that is both inclusive and fruitful to science, particularly quantitative research.

Literary Works

Luminous Mind. My second full-length lyric memoir is about mental illness, trauma throughout time, and life in graduate school. I am seeking an agent for this work. A condensed version of the first half of Luminous Mind (submitted to Spoon Knife 7, edited by Nick Walker) is available for review.
